Jakarta 2025 Energy Storage Subsidy

Overview

Why is Indonesia launching a new energy subsidy scheme?

Bambang Ismoyo, Heru Andriyanto, Jakarta – The Indonesian government is formulating a new energy subsidy scheme to better target assistance toward those who need it most, Energy and Mineral Resources Minister Bahlil Lahadalia announced on Tuesday.

What is Indonesia's Energy Supply Plan 2025 – 2034?

Indonesia's Electricity Supply Business Plan (RUPTL) 2025–2034 increases the share of renewables (excluding battery storage) to 74%, with a strong focus on solar. However, the plan's first five years continue to allocate significant capacity to fossil fuels, potentially hindering the country's transition to cleaner energy sources.

What will Indonesia's Energy Policy look like in 2025?

IESR's Alvin Putra Sisdwinaugraha, one of the report's lead authors, told pv magazine that 2025 will be pivotal to Indonesia's energy policy direction, with the 10-year National Energy Policy set to be approved by the new government. "Key targets of this new policy include a renewable energy mix target of 19% to 21% of primary energy supply in 2030.

Will 2025 be a pivotal year for Indonesia's energy transition?

The Jakarta-based Institute for Essential Services Reform (IESR) says 2025 will be a pivotal year for Indonesia's energy transition, as the nation has fallen behind targets in recent years.
