How is wind energy transforming communities?

Communities worldwide are embracing wind energy through innovative approaches such as community-owned wind farms and hybrid projects combining wind with solar or energy storage. Local initiatives have demonstrated how wind power can create jobs, generate income for landowners, and support energy independence whilst reducing carbon emissions.

Will GB Energy tackle a looming wind power shortfall in 2035?

The UK's state-owned energy company, GB Energy, announced plans to tackle a looming shortfall in the UK's wind power targets for 2035 as part of a programme supporting 15GW of new renewable power and storage in the country and mobilising £15 billion (around €17.2 billion) in the process.

Will Siemens Gamesa get EU funding to build offshore wind turbines?

Siemens Gamesa has been revealed as the company due to receive EU funds to help it develop offshore wind turbines featuring "disruptive size and performance". Germany utility RWE and French oil major TotalEnergies will install 66 reef cubes made by ARC Marine at the OranjeWind project in the Dutch North Sea.

Which countries use wind turbines?

Major players like Vestas, Siemens Gamesa, and GE Renewable Energy continue to drive innovation in turbine technology, whilst countries such as China, the United States, and Germany lead in deployment. Recent developments have focused on floating offshore wind farms, which allow access to deeper waters with stronger, more consistent winds.
