

Smart solar module glass

Overview

What is photovoltaic smart glass?

Photovoltaic glass, also known as solar glass or transparent solar panels, is a type of smart glass that uses embedded photovoltaic cells to convert sunlight into electricity to generate electricity.

What is transparent photovoltaic smart glass?

Transparent Photovoltaic Smart Glass converts ultraviolet and infrared to electricity while transmitting visible light into building interiors, enabling a more sustainable and efficient use of natural daylight. This article introduces transparent photovoltaic smart glass, which generates electricity from sunlight using invisible internal layers.

What is Photovoltaic Glass?

Photovoltaic glass is also referred to as solar windows, transparent solar panels, transparent photovoltaic glass, solar glass and photovoltaic windows. Many manufacturers refer to this genre as transparent photovoltaic glass, but we see no reason for the glass to be limited to only transmitting visible wavelengths (approx. 380 nm to 750 nm).

What is smart glass?

At Smartglass World, we define 'smart glass' as any glazing medium with modifications to its structure or its behaviour, over and above 'normal' float glass. These modifications can be surface coatings, internal laminations or electronic circuits embedded in the glass, as in the case of TPV smart glass.

From Skyscrapers to Greenhouses: PV Glass Applications
One of the first candidates for the use of transparent photovoltaic glass has been skyscrapers due to the nature of their facades. In fact, ten years ago, there was already talk of integrating these solar windows in the Willis Tower, the tallest skyscraper in Chicago. However, if there is one building in which glass predominates, it is greenhouses. See more on innovation-hub nrbsmart
