Can battery-based energy storage boost Taiwan's Economy?

In Taiwan, the government aims to deploy 590 MW of battery-based energy storage by 2025. Analysts estimate that integrating storage systems with solar and wind projects could generate over US$1 billion in economic value—especially as energy demand rises and grid resilience becomes a national priority.

How energy storage system works in Taiwan?

The energy storage system can discharge power immediately to fill any power gaps, and its hour of duration provides enough time for all the natural gas units across Taiwan to start up and restore power. It is anticipated that similar energy storage facilities will be gradually established throughout Taiwan in the coming years.

What is Taiwan's largest energy storage system?

On June 30, 2022, the plant successfully connected to the grid, with a capacity of 20 megawatts (MW) and a total energy storage capacity of 20,000 kilowatt-hours (kWh). At the time, the achievement set the record for the largest energy storage system in Taiwan and was capable of providing one hour of electricity to 40,000 households.
